INVADED BY HEBREWS. .

Britishers Alarmed Over the Number of Rusalan Jews Seeking Refuge in England. LONDON, May 20 .- England is becoming alarmed at the exodus of destitute Hebrews from Russia, as large numbers of them are seeking refuge in Great Britain. This movement has assumed such proportions that it is termed the "Hebrew invasion of | duct England." It is estimated that about five hundred appeals are made each week to the different newspapers by individuals, urging that the authorities should introduce legislation to exclude destitute aliens similar to the immigration law recently adopted by the dilemma without giving offense the United States. The Evening News warns the authorities that if the Hebrew "invasion" is not checked there will grow up an anti-Hebrew movement in England, in comparison with which the New Orleans feud would be a small affair. On the other hand, the manager of "Shelter," an institution established for the reception of Hebrews arriving here, asserts that almost every destitute arrival is intrusted to his care, and that the number does not exceed twenty per week, fully nine-tenths of which number are reshipped to Chicago, New York, Boston or the English colonies. When questioned as to how these destitute Hebrews succeeded in care, and that the number does not exceed twenty per week, fully nine-tenths of which number are reshipped to Chicago, New York, Boston or the English colonies. When questioned as to how these destitute Hebrews succeeded in gaining admission into the United States in the face of the law providing for the exclusion of destitute aliens the manager of the Hebrew "Shelter" said: "Oh, we take care to provide for them before they are shipped, so that on landing they can show that they are capable of earning a living. There is no reason that any country should object to this."

membership was indorsed by the Grand Lodge this evening.

The following officers were elected at the meeting to-day: E. D. Hay, of Washington, grand exalted ruler; Frank E. Wright, of Toledo, grand leading knight; Peter J. Rusk, of Detroit, esteemed grand loyal knight; Dr. O. C. Sprague, of Rochester, N. Y., esteemed grand secretary knight; Allen O. Meyers, of Cincinnati, grand secretary; M. J. Burke, of Louisville, grand teller; Wm. F. Bechel, of Omaha, grand treasurer; Judge L. E. Griffith, of Troy, N. Y., W. C. Vanderlip, of Boston; J. W. Coogan, of object to this."

A careful investigation of the subject tends to prove that about five hundred weekly is the correct number of destitute Hebrews captured by the "sweaters" the arrival of the former in this country. The "captured" Hebrews are then lodged in diver in the vicinity of the dock, and work for sweating tailors at the lowest possible wages, barely sufficient to keep body and soul together. It is also shown that systematic procuration exists in regard to the young Hebrew girls and a society has been formed composed of Hebrew ladies in order to prevent this system of procuration. The ladies composing this society have arranged to send an inspector to each ship arriving here with Hebrew em-igrants on board. These inspectors will warn the Hebrew girls against the dangers awaiting them and will see that they are not enticed into the dens which abound in certain sections in London.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Return of 700 Destitute Italians Who Sough Homes in South America. MARSEILLES, May 20.—The steamer Bearn from Brazilian and Argentine ports, has arrived, bringing back about seven hundred utterly destitute Italian emigrants who had sought fortune in those countries. During the passage from South America there were five deaths from yellow fever among the disheartened emigrants. They tell startling stories of the hardships they have suffered, and it is expected their return will tend to stop the tide of emigration flowing from Italy towards South America, and, on the other hand, increase the number of Italian emigrants who will seek em-ployment in the United States. In fact, the recent increase in the number of Italian emigrants who have started or are on the point of starting for the United States is attributed on some points to the unfavorable reports received from Italians who have been induced to try their luck in South America. It is thus concluded that when the Bearn's passengers reach Italy, and personally tell of the privations and sickness endured by them in Brazil and the Argentine Republic, there will be a great falling off in the number of Italians who have been looking towards those conntries as likely to furnish them in the future with new homes and fortune. The Duke of Fife's Little Girl. LONDON May 20.-The birth of a daughter to the Duke and Duchess of Fife has excited the greatest national interest. What the English especially like is that there is now an heir to the throne which has English blood in its veins, and not German. The baby is the only pure English one in the royal family, and this baby will hold a remarkable position which has not been held by any legitimate grandchild of an English sovereign for hundreds of years.

THE PURSUIT OF THE 1TATA.

No Word from the Charleston Since She Left

Acapulco-A Story Denied. WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Charleston has been three days at sea since leaving Acapulco, and there is still no word of her movements. Secretary Tracy says that he does not expect to hear from her until she reaches Panama, and according to the calculation of naval officers this should happen by to-morrow night unless she has meantime caught the Itata or suffered a mishap. Of the Itata nothing has been heard positively since she sailed from Santiago, nearly two weeks ago. The State and Navy Departments are in frequent communication with Admiral Brown at Iquique, Chili, presumably exchanging advices and views respecting the chase. Secretary Tracy said that the dispatches contained nothing of importance touching the Itata. He was asked whether American interests with Iquique, the insurgent headquarters, were endangered by the pursuit of their vessel. He replied not the slightest. Our position is one of Touching a story cabled from Paris that at the instance of Minister Reid, who acted the request of the insurgent envoys in France, the pursuit of the Itata had been discontinued, it can be pos-itively stated that such orders have been issued to the Charleston and in fact, as already stated, no communication has been had with that vessel since she was at Acapulco, last week, nor has anything been received from Minister Reid on the subject. It is known, however, that the insurgent agents have been actively seeking to bring influences to bear to prevent the capture of their vessel, but it can-not be officially learned what shape their efforts have taken.

Money Belonging to the Insurgents. San Francisco, May 20 .- A report is current here in connection with the recent arrest of Senator Trumbuil, the alleged agent of the Chilian insurgents, to the effect that for some little time past $250,000 has been on deposit at the Bank of British North America, in this city, to the credit of the insurgents and their agents. The money is said to have been sent here from Chili, and it is also said that letters are now in the possession of the government authorities which show that many of the wealthy and influential citizens of Chili have contributed this and other large sums of money for the overthrow of Balmaceda's government. United States District Attorney Garter states that the fact of there being a large sum of money on deposit here to the credit of Senator Trumbull would be an important circumstance in determining the guilt of the accused.

Considerable speculation is indulged in here as to the outcome of the attempt of the United States grand jury, at Los Anern Union and Postal Telegraph companies relative to the Chilian affair. The superintendents of the two companies were sum-moned on Monday to produce these dis-patches, and it is said they have both refused to do so.

JACKSON AND CORBETT.

Both in Good Condition for the Fight To-Night-How the Betting Ranges. SAN FRANCISCO, May 20,-Selling pools on the Jackson-Corbett fight, which takes place at the California Athletic Club tomorrow night, began last evening and about $4,300 was placed at odds of from 10 to 7 on Jackson. The majority of Corbett's friends held out for longer odds, which they believe they can obtain. Corbett's condition is all that his trainer, John Donaldson, desires. Since he fought Choynski Corbett has thickened to a degree hardly to be anticipated. He is now six feet and one inch high, weighs 186 pounds and is in good form. He has been called the shiftiest boxer living. Corbett has not been considered the best heretofore, but his preparation for Jackson has been thorough. Jackson's experience in ring fighting is greater than Corbett's and he is a bigger man by eleven pounds. That the meeting is considered a pretty even match is shown by the reluctance of betting men to wager large sums, one of the largest private bets yet made being $2,250 as against $3,000 on Corbett. The latter, in reply to a question as to what were his intentions after the contest, said: "If I win I will go East. You see if I win I shall be on the road to the championship. If I lose I shall leave the Referee's Decision in the Bowen-Meyer Fight. NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—Referee Brewster has decided the Bowen-Meyer fight on fouls. the purse to be divided equally and all bets declared off.

The above decision has generally been accepted, but there is much comment concerning it. Under prize-fighting rules, as generally understood, when one man fouls another he loses the fight. The referee de-cided that Meyer had fouled Bowen, in fact, the foul was so palpable that almost every one of the four thousand spectators present saw it. This was generally regarded as giving Bowen the fight, but the action of the referee to-day settles the matter differently. Those who oppose the decision, and they are numerous, argue that under such ruling hereafter, when a fighter finds he is whipped, he has only to foul his opponent to get one-half the purse, and enable his friends to get back any money they may have wagered on him.

FREE-COINAGE MEN ON TOP.

Ferry, of Utah, Elected Chairman of the Transmississippi Congress.

DENVER, Col., May 20 .- Mr. A. C. Ferry, of Utah, the free-coinage man, was selected chairman of the transmississippi congress after a warm contest. At the opening, this morning, Senator Tabor offered resolutions demanding a lower rate of transportation for freight and passengers between the Missouri river and the East. Then came the report of the committee on permanent organization. Mr. Patton, of Texas, read organization. Mr. Patton, of Texas, read the majority report, recommending Governor Anthony, of Kansas, for presiding officer, but the minority report stated the choice of the committee for presiding officer was the point on which they could not agree. The hitch was silver. They must have a free-coinage man. Governor Anthony was declared by his own confession to be opposed to free coinage, therefore it recommended A. C. Ferry, of Utah, for presiding officer. This was after the election siding officer. This was after the election of Ferry for permanent chairman was announced. The silver men raised a big yell that shook the house, and the congress then took a recess.

that shook the house, and the congress then took a recess.

At the afternoon session a large number of resolutions were introduced, the most important being that from the Louisiana delegation. It urged upon Congress the necessity and advisability of appropriating enough money to make the Mississippi river navigable for ocean vessels from its mouth to St. Louis. The question for discussion this afternoon was "The Ceding of the Public Lands by the General Government to the Respective States." United States Senator Warren, of Wyoming, opened the discussion with a speech favoring the proposition. Judge Gregory, of Kansas, opposed the ceding of government lands to the States, as did Judge Gaylord, of Colorado, but from the manner in which their remarks were received it is evident that the majority of the delegates favor the movement. Prof. J. F. Stanton, of Wyoming, said the North and South had fought and settled their differences, and the next war of greater bitterness would be between the West and East. In reply to a call for government statistics Professor Stanton replied in withering sarcasm: "Statistics—what are they? I have assisted in making them [great laughter], but let me finish. I was ruled out of the government service because I would not corrupt statistics to please ruled out of the government service because would not corrupt statistics to please those who were my superiors in office."

The Rev. Mr. Poster Will Print Brewery "Ads," and Scores His Critics.

CINCINNATI, May 19. The Rev. E. P Foster has, for several years, been a prominent Congregationalist minister in this city. A few months ago, because of advanced ideas on labor questions, he resigned his pastorate, but not the ministry, and began the publication of the Golden Rule. Two weeks ago he published a brewery advertisement which caused a great sensation. This week he prints two columns of such advertisements, and says, among other things, in defending his conduct:

"I advertise the breweries because I conscientiously think it is the right thing to do—a strict duty under the present circum-stances. The Golden Rule is not a church paper, as some seem to have in-ferred from its title, nor is it advocating Sunday-school measures of reform. There are evils, many and great, in the liquor traffic, but when that is thrust forward as the chief of devouring monsters in modern society then that assertion itself becomes a stumbling block in the way of reform. The liquor business does not injure those who let it alone. The church has lost the respect of the masses because it is built upon and is the advocate of the system that continually robs and defrauds the

The dailies of Cincinnati all advertise breweries, and business men of the highest church standing advermen of the highest church standing advertise alongside the liquor advertisements, even in the Sunday editions. In the Cincin-nati church of which I was pastor, when the descons and their wives had neglected to prepare wine for communion service they sent the janitor out on Sunday morning before church time to a saloon to buy a bottle of wine for sacramental service. If a company of young men go to a saloon on Sunday morning and dripk a bottle of wine

"But if the young men had joined the church, and, instead of drinking in the saloon, had waited until the deacons had sent the janitor out, without regard to the Sunday law on the subject, and he had bought at the saloon that same bottle or wine and brought it to the church, and the young men had drunk that same wine around the church altar, the fact would then have been a religious rite—the holiest of sacraments."

WILL EXCEED ONE MILLION. Liabilities of the Davis Shoe Company Greater Than at First Reported. Boston, May 20 .- The liabilities of the Davis Shoe Company, with maufactories at Richmond, Va., Kennebeunk, Me., and Lynn, Mass., are said to exceed $1,000,000. The Hon. Joseph Davis, formerly president of the corporation, has made a personal assignment. The assignees are President Moses Williams, of the Third National Bank, of Boston, and B. F. Spinner, of Lynn. The house was considered one of the strongest financially. Its credit was excellent, although it had been a little slow in meeting its bills in the past three months. It is known that the company lost $115,000 by the recent failure of J. and A. Simpkinson & Co., of Cincinnati, and it is hinted by those in a position to know that the failure of the Potter-Lovell Company was another factor in bringing about the Indians Unnecessarily Alarmed. VALENTINE, Neb., May 20.—There has been a feeling of restlessness among the Indians of the Rosebud agency, for some time past, for fear the government troops were anticipating some move to prevent an outbreak this summer. It has just been learned that the cause of this uneasiness among them was brought about by the report that General Brooke, accompanied by a troop of cavalry as an escort, is soon to visit the agency. General Brooke was informed of this feeling, and to quiet the fears of the Indians he has concluded to take Troop L, Sixth Cavalry, which is composed of Intrician of Interest to Scientists.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DELPHI, Ind., May 20 .- Henry Mills, a young man in the employ of the electriclight company of this city, has made an important discovery in experimenting with the loud-smelling water that flows from our artesian well. He has demonstrated that it possesses most valuable properties in generating electricity. Young Mills has charge of the batteries at the electric-light house, and some time ago became impressed with the similarity of odor between a certain acid battery and the water from the artesian well. He secured a bottle of the water and for two months has been experimenting with it. He poured the water in a jar in which there were zine and copper plates and attached the galvanometer. To his joyful surprise the needles whirled rapidly around and registered seventy-eight degrees and steadily maintained the same, varying scarcely one degree in seven weeks. This register shows an electromotive force of 1.12 volts, which is stronger than a blue-vitriol battery, which will give but one volt. The average battery will last about seven or eight weeks without replenishing. Young Mills is confident that a battery made with the water from this well will last from twelve to fifteen weeks. He also experimented with small incandescent lights, with induction coil, such as is used by dentists in extracting teeth, and in many other ways with the most satisfactory results. Mills states that the expert analysis made of the water by an Indianapolis chemist, several moths ago, failed to show the presence of any elements used in generating electricity, and he regards the results of his experiments all the smore important on this account He says that after the water has been placed in a jar with zine and copper for twenty-four hours it turns as white as chalk, and the odor is very perceptible. At the expiration of thirty-six hours the odor has departed, and the water becomes as clear as crystal. The odor and taste of the water in the well at Lafayette is similar to that in the well in this city, and young Mills secured a sample from Lafavette to use in his experiments. It failed to show any of the results gained in the experiment with the water taken from the Delphi well. Our citizens consider Mills's discovery as a most impor-tant one, as a search of the books fails to disclose any water direct from the earth that will give the same results.

Other Fires. Houston, Tex., May 20 .- A destructive fire started here this afternoon in the lum-ber-mill of the Phænix Lumber Company. Gibble & Co. lumber-mill and a large amount of lumber, amounting approximately to $80,000, with insurance of $30,000, seven stores and thirty residences, mostly
